

Importing Personal Property Into Brazil

HOUSEHOLD GOODS AND PERSONAL EFFECTS

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS AND REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

Customs Regulations:

Client must be in Brazil at time of Customs clearance. Clients arriving into Brazil must keep a copy of arrival airline ticket for presentation to Customs Authority. Household goods and personal effects must arrive within 180 days of client's arrival into Brazil. Both new and used household goods and personal effects can be imported duty free. New items must be declared as new and stated as such on the inventory to also be included as duty-free.

Consumable items are subject to 50% duties + 17% tax. This includes soap, lotions, makeup etc.

All imports without exceptions or status including diplomats pay demurrage and port/airport storage in Brazil over CIF Value declared within a period of 2 weeks. Shipment will be cleared under a bond.

Inventory/Packing List items with quantities declared must be identical to what is stated on the OBL. Discrepancies between the OBL and the Packing list will cause Customs Authority to seize the shipment of belongings to be put up for sale.

The Fumigation Certificate must be sent to the Destination Agent with original Bill of Lading prior to arrival of shipment. Goods can be imported only after the visa is authorized by Brazilian authorities and the residence permit is stamped into the passport by the Brazilian Federal Police. Items imported must be exported when client leaves Brazil.

NOTES: It is recommended that the origin agent contact the destination agent in advance of the shipment to confirm updated consignment instructions and customs regulations. All documents must be with the Destination Agent at least 7 days prior to arrival of the shipment. All documents requiring a signature must be notarized. The Brazilian Consulate must legalize all foreign documents submitted with the visa petition. If there is an air shipment and ocean shipment it is necessary to provide 2 sets of the below documents.

Only after approval by the Ministry of Labour in Brazil will the Ministry of Foreign Relations authorize processing the Visa.

NOTES:

Entry & Exit Requirements: A Yellow fever vaccine may be required for entry depending if one has visited certain other countries. Vaccination is strongly recommended if one intends to visit or reside in Brazilian states where yellow fever exists. Refer to the Embassy of Brazil's website for further details and requirements. Showing contempt to a Brazilian government official at the port of entry, or elsewhere, is a serious offense. Fines for such offenses are based on the offender's claimed income. U.S. citizens must fill out an immigration form on arrival that will be stamped and handed back by immigration officials at the airport. It is important to retain this form to hand in to immigration officials upon exit from the country. According to the Brazilian Embassy's website, those who lose this form must get clearance from the Brazilian Federal Police to leave the country and may have to pay a fine. U.S. citizens also possessing Brazilian nationality cannot be issued Brazilian visas and must obtain a Brazilian passport (from the Brazilian Embassy or Consulate nearest to their place of residence) to enter and depart Brazil. Dual nationals may also be subject to other laws that impose special obligations on Brazilian citizens. Brazilian minors age 17 years and under, including minors who have both Brazilian and U.S. citizenship, are subject to strict exit requirements. US citizens must register with the Brazilian Federal Police within 30 days of arrival.

Safety & Security: US citizens are encouraged to enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program, to stay current with the latest safety and security announcements dispersed by the Embassy in your area. Your enrollment can also help the Department of State reach your family and friends in case of emergency. U.S. citizens crossing into Paraguay or Argentina should consult the Country Specific Information for those countries. Colombian groups have kidnapped residents and tourists in border areas of Colombia's neighbors. U.S. citizens residing in areas of Brazil near the Colombian border must exercise caution, and take care when visiting remote parts of the Amazon basin respecting local laws and customs. The U.S. Embassy restricts travel of U.S. government employees where narcotics traffickers and other criminals have recently resorted to violent actions. These areas include all favelas in Recife, Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, any area within 150 km of the borders with Venezuela, Colombia, Peru, Bolivia, Guyana, Suriname, French Guiana and Paraguay, and, between the hours of 6:00 pm and 6:00 am, the "satellite cities" of Ceilandia, Santa Maria, Sao Sebastiao and Paranoa in Brasilia. This restriction does not include commonly used transit routes that often pass near or through favelas.

Crime: Crime throughout Brazil has reached very high levels. Brazil's murder rate is more than four times higher than that of the U.S. Rates for other crimes are similarly high. The majority of crimes are not solved. Foreign tourists or residents are often targets of crime and Americans are not exempt. This targeting occurs in all tourist areas but is especially problematic in Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Salvador and Recife. U.S. citizens are advised to keep a copy of their passport on them and to carry proof of whatever health insurance they may have while in public places. Robberies and "quicknappings" outside of banks and ATM machines are common. In a "quicknapping," criminals abduct victims for a short time in order to receive a quick payoff from the family, business or the victim's ATM card. Some victims have been beaten and/or raped. Carjacking is on the increase in Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro and Recife.

Health: Malaria risk exists throughout the year; depending on the part of Brazil one resides determines the type of prophylaxis to take. Immunization against typhoid and yellow fever is recommended and may be required. Hepatitis A, B and D, Brazilian purpuric fever and brucellosis all occur. There are epidemics of meningococcal meningitis in and around the Rio area.

Fumigation of Wood Packing Materials: Brazil has stringent regulations regarding wood packing materials. Air and sea shipments found to not be fumigated will fumigated at the cost of approximately 200.00USD and will delay the clearance process 1-3 days.
